

Sunday Mass will be live streamed from OLR at 9:15am; see the parish website for the link, page 2. Those without Internet access are invited to pray at the same time, using the separate sheet "When Mass cannot be celebrated publicly", so we can all be united spiritually.

On Sundays at 7pm you are invited to light a candle in your window, as a sign of prayer and Christian solidarity.

Despite the lockdown, Mass will continued to be offered twice daily for your intentions, which are still gratefully received via e-mail and bank transfer. You may also use your own envelopes and post offerings through the Presbytery letterbox. Please see inside for how to do this correctly.

The Easter Sunday readings give us an immense feeling of relief. We have followed the story of Jesus and his disciples as they listened to his teaching, questioning him, sometimes being puzzled by him, often not quite understanding what he meant, especially his parables; we sympathized. But on Easter Sunday, as we picture Peter and John in the tomb, handling the cloths in which Jesus had been bound, we can feel their relief—they have finally understood. Christ will rise from the dead. Indeed, he has risen. We can also feel for them when we are told they were together in a locked room, fearful of what the Jews would do to them after the scenes they had witnessed. What joy they must have felt when Jesus stood amongst them with those words we repeat every Sunday "Peace be with you". No wonder they rejoiced. But also it is not surprising that Thomas found it difficult to believe this story when it was told to him. He had not been at the tomb, he had not been in the locked room, he needed physical proof. He must have felt abandoned, excluded from events which the others had witnessed. In a way we can share his feelings while we are excluded from something which is central to our being, our attendance at Mass, our partaking of the Sacraments. Thomas was lucky, in a matter of days he had the reassurance he needed. Perhaps we need such reassurance at this time, that we are not forsaken. In this passage Christ gives us that consolation. "Blessed are those who have not seen and have believed". With those words he is speaking directly to us, centuries later. We believe and we will be together again to worship him with joy and relief.

It was greatly appreciated.

Fr Raglan, Fr Tristan and Nick would like to thank everyone for all the cards, gifts and offerings you have kindly given for Easter, particularly as it is not easy to purchase and deliver things at this time. Their prayers continue for the whole parish on this Divine Mercy Sunday.

FUNERALS IN THIS EMERGENCY PERIOD

As part of the closure of churches, funerals are only taking place in cemeteries or crematoriums, and with a minimal number of people present. However, we will aim on the day to offer one of the two Masses that are continuing to be said, for that intention. We’re conscious that this still limits how much a family can properly mourn their loved one. For these cases, we can plan a fuller memorial service when the restrictions are over, and with a wider number of people. We will need to fit them in with the weekday Masses and the congregation that regularly attends those. A good compromise might be to let the family have a choice of the readings and music, and use the Parish Centre for photo tables, videos, and eulogies. Fr. Raglan
